HIGHLY IMPORTANT.

Rumored Fight Near Brandon, Mississippi.

General Polk Whipped by General Sherman.

12,000 PRISONERS TAKEN.

The Rebels Attempt to Cross the Tennessee River at Three Points.

GEN. DODGE REPULSES THEM.

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., Saturday, Feb. 20.

It is rumored here that Gen. SHERMAN has had a fight with Gen. POLK near Brandon, whipped him, and taken 12,000 prisoners.

Official information from Gen. DODGE was received at Gen. LOGAN'S Headquarters to-day that the rebels, supposed to be RODDY'S command, attempted to cross the Tennessee River at three different ferries, but were driven back by Gen. DODGE'S troops. Our loss was very slight.

LETTER FROM NASHVILLE.

Three new Anti-Slavery Papers in Tennessee—Important Order of Adjutant-Gen. Thomas—Cumberland Gap cut off from Knoxville—Railroad Communication Between Knoxville and Chattanooga—Affairs at Chattanooga—Accident to an Ohio Regiment—Emancipation Meeting at Memphis—Citizens Hunting and Shooting Guerrillas—Gen. Grant at the Theatre, &c., &c.

Special Correspondence of the New-York Times.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Tuesday, Feb. 16, 1864.

This city is one of the most progressive—thanks to its new class of citizens—of the nation. And its progressiveness is not wholly confined to its limits. Its contagious influences are being felt all over the State. For instance, in a week or more, three new daily papers will be established in this State, to be respectively located at Nashville, Murfreesboro and Chattanooga. Regarding the former, I may say that the first printing-press and type ever bought for the sole purpose of printing Anti-Slavery sentiments in Tennessee, arrived in this city yesterday, and in all probability the first number of the new paper in this city will make its appearance on Thursday or Friday morning next. It will be called the Nashville Daily Times, and will be edited and owned by Mr. S. C. MERCER, late editor of the Union, of this city. The size and appearance of the paper will be more Northern than newspapers are generally in this section, and great pains will be taken to make it the most reliable and influential journal in the Southwest.

Those persons in the North, unacquainted with the history of the Nashville Daily Union, and friendly to it, and its late popular editor, will, no doubt, be surprised to learn that he has abandoned the above-named newspaper, and upon the eve of establishing another. The facts of the case, however, are as follows. About the 9th of April, 1862, a short time after the occupation of this city by our army, Gov. JOHNSON saw the necessity of having an organ of the Union party, and one that should not only be friendly to the Federal Government and the national army, but one that should take a lively interest in the success of the cause in Tennessee. At that time the two most villainous of secession newspapers were still being published, but, of course, much moderated in tone. One of these was the Patriot, and the other the Banner. Neither would espouse the cause for which our army was fighting, and neither, to tell the truth, would cease insulting that same army and its object. At last Gov. JOHNSON "squelched" them, but informed the men who were running the Patriot (most of whom were the compositors engaged thereon) that if they pleased they should not be thrown out of work—that he had hired a gentleman named MERCER to edit a Union paper, and that, if they were willing, they should hold on to their situations, receive all moneys that the paper should earn. This they concluded to do, although the job was a poisonous one. But they disclaimed to their friends any connection with the Union. MERCER started off boldly from the first, with his motto, "Freedom and Nationality," at the head of his paper, and cut and slashed at everything in the least manner treasonable. For some few months it was the only newspaper printed in Nashville, yet its circulation barely paid its expenses. The most unconditionally loyal of the inhabitants, and Anti-Slavery men of the most influential character, though admiring MERCER for his earnestness and boldness, advised him to adopt a less radical course. To all of these friendly invitations he gave argument, and opened new batteries at every fire. Before the paper was a year old a new order of things had been inaugurated in Tennessee. In April, 1863, scarcely a Union man could be found who did not endorse the President's Emancipation Proclamation, and none who were not in favor of killing Slavery with the rebellion. Three Union Leagues and two Union Clubs had been established in this county, none of which had less than five hundred members. But the most flourishing of all institutions in this section of country in the month of April, 1863, was the Nashville Daily Union. At that time it had a daily circulation of nine thousand copies, and a weekly edition (all paid for in advance) of sixteen thousand, besides an immense advertising patronage. The owners of the paper—these compositors, who detested the editor, who was still on a salary, and who detested Gov. JOHNSON, and all who bore arms against the South, all of a sudden were getting rich. The type was getting fearfully worn and the machinery crazy, and MERCER advised the proprietors to get a new dress. But this they would not do, although the concern was making toward a thousand dollars a week. Disgusted with this state of things, in November last, the editor relinquished his position, with the determination to connect himself with an establishment more loyal and enterprising. His press and material were bought in December, but through bad management did not arrive until last week. The Times, however, will have an existence this week, and there will be some broadsides fired at the Union newspaper, which is directly opposite the Times. In a card the Union proprietors have stated that MERCER did not own that paper, that they were the owners, and that they "permitted him to publish his own peculiar doctrines," (opposition to treason and disunion,) &c. Shortly after they hauled down the motto—"Freedom and Nationality," and are now very adroitly attacking the Governor and Ex-Congressman MAYNARD. But all these things will be attended to in the next fortnight.

A new cylinder press and new type has been ordered for a paper to be established in Murfreesboro as soon as the material shall arrive. This paper—like MERCER'S—will be thoroughly Anti-Slavery in tone, and I think will be called the Murfreesboro Daily Tribune. Murfreesboro is a place of three thousand population, and, at least during the war, will have a large national garrison located within its limits. The country about is thickly settled, and no doubt need be entertained as to the success of the new journal.

About the 1st of March a handsome Anti-Slavery paper will make its appearance at Chattanooga, and will be called the Gazette. It will be issued daily and weekly, and will be owned by Mr. JAMES S. HOOD. The machinery and type are on their way here, by river, and will be shipped to Chattanooga, if nothing happens, next week. Mr. HOOD, at the breaking out of the rebellion, was the Postmaster of Chattanooga, and was the proprietor of the Weekly Gazette. He will be in favor of immediate emancipation if the people of East Tennessee are, but in favor of emancipation at any rate. He will also favor the project of East Tennessee becoming a separate State, and will urge the matter upon his patrons. Chattanooga is a fine opening for a daily paper, and can be made to injure the papers of Middle Tennessee considerably. HOOD is a practical man, and was for quite a time the local editor of the Washington Republican.

Adjt.-Gen. THOMAS, who, since his arrival here, has been for the most time engaged in perfecting arrangements for the vast number of "contrabands" congregated in our midst, has issued the following order. It gives assurance that the colored people who have sought freedom and protection within the Federal lines in this department will not be permitted to suffer from want and destitution.

ORDERS No. 2.—I. A camp for the reception of contrabands will at once be established in the vicinity of Nashville Tenn. The entire control and supervision of the same will be under CAPT. RALPH HUNT, First Regiment Kentucky Volunteers, subject to such orders as he may receive from the Commanding-General of the Department of the Cumberland. The Quartermaster's Department will furnish all the materials and supplies necessary to shelter and protect the negroes destined to be located in this camp. If practicable, the contrabands will be quartered in log houses, to be constructed by the negroes themselves; but in the interim, tents will be furnished for their accommodation. The several Staff Departments will issue all supplies necessary for the wants of these people, on the requisition of the officer in charge of the camp, approved by the officer commanding the nearest post.

II. A detail of eight subaltern from regiments of African descent, will be ordered to report for duty to Capt. RALPH HUNT, First Kentucky Volunteers, commandant of the camp, for the purpose of aiding him in the performance of his duties. It shall form a part of their duties to visit the plantations, farms, wood-yards, and other places where negroes may be employed, for the purpose of inquiring into their condition, and to see that the engagements between them and their employers are promptly and faithfully carried out on both sides. Any failure on the part of an employer to carry out his engagements will be immediately reported to the Commanding-General of the nearest Military District, who will at once take action in the matter.

III. The following regulations for the government of freedmen in the Department of the Cumberland, are announced for the information of all concerned:

1. All male negroes coming within our lines, who, after examination, shall be found capable of bearing arms, will be mustered into companies and regiments of colored troops in process of organization. All others, including men incapable of bearing arms, women and children, instead of being permitted to remain in camp in idleness, will be required to perform such labor as may be suited to their condition in the respective Staff Departments of the army, on plantations or farms, leased or otherwise, within our lines; as wood-choppers, teamsters, or in any way that their labor can be made available.

2. All civilians of known loyalty, having possession of plantations, farms, wood-yards, or otherwise engaged, may, upon application to the Commandant of the contraband camp, hire such negroes, (including a fair proportion of children,) as they may desire, if possible, for actual service. In all such cases, the employers will enter into a written engagement to pay, feed and treat humanely all the negroes turned over to them, and none shall be hired for a less term than one year, commencing on the 1st day of January, 1864. Should it be desirable, and the employer furnish clothing to the hired hands, the same shall be deducted from their pay at the actual cost price.

3. When found impracticable to find persons of sufficient character and responsibility to give employment to all negroes liable to be employed, the respective Generals of Districts may designate such abandoned or confiscated plantations or farms as they may deem most suitable, to be worked by the negroes, upon such terms as in their judgment shall be best adapted to the welfare of this class of people—taking care that in all cases the negroes shall be self-sustaining, and not a burthen upon the Government.

4. The wages to be paid for labor shall be as follows: For all able-bodied males over fifteen years of age, not less than $7 per month; for able-bodied females over fifteen years of age, not less than $5 per month; for children between the age of twelve and fifteen, half the above amounts; children under fourteen years of age shall not be used as field hands, and families must be kept together when they do so desire. The employer also must furnish such medical advice as may be required, at his own expense.

IV. In order the more fully to carry out the requirements of this order, the Commanders of military districts are authorized when necessary, to lease abandoned plantations to loyal citizens, on such terms as may be equitable.

By order of the Secretary of War.

L. THOMAS, Adj't.-Gen.

I see by a telegraphic dispatch that the Washington Republican states that the communication with Cumberland Gap and Knoxville is not cut off. That journal is mistaken. The road has been abandoned nearly three weeks. All mails and persons en route for Knoxville from any point North go via Cincinnati, Louisville, Nashville and Chattanooga. The abandonment of the road is, however, insignificant. All mails from Knoxville to Cumberland Gap pass through this city. This item is strictly reliable. The last mail sent to the garrison at the Gap from Knoxville took a circuitous route, some eighty miles from a direct line. There is no important news from that section of Tennessee, although our own officers, citizens, prisoners and deserters say that LONGSTREET is being still heavily reinforced. It is expected that the railroad between London and Chattanooga will be completed this week. This will give direct railroad communication between the latter place and Knoxville.

Since my last very little of importance has transpired about the regions of Chattanooga. The health of the army is unusually good, and the weather thereabouts delightful. Since the movement South of Gens. CHEATHAM'S and WALTHAM'S Divisions, the arrival of deserters has been less numerous. Those who have arrived state that JOHN MORGAN has made his headquarters at Decatur, and that in the course of a few days he will start upon a raid. His course will be no doubt through Northern Alabama and West Tennessee, and into Kentucky. It is not believed that he dare attempt a raid upon the road between this city and Chattanooga, but that he designs moving into Kentucky. Whatever damage he does upon the Nashville and Chattanooga Railway will have to be made up by those citizens residing upon the road, who have been sympathizing with treason. This item, no doubt, will keep JOHN away from these parts.

Several members of the Twenty-ninth Ohio Regiment (veterans returning to the front,) met with a sad accident in this city on Sunday morning. Breakfast was announced, and the whole crowd made for the dining-room, crushing down the porch, and injuring the following named soldiers:

Albert Atkins, Company B, foot and ankle badly sprained; B. F. Sperry, Co. C, ankle sprained badly; J. Hile, First Sergeant, Company D, both legs bruised; Edward Spicer, Company D, dangerous contusion on the head. D. L. WINKLE, Company D, bruised generally; Orlando Gunn, Company E, bruised generally; O. F. Stetson, Company F, bruised generally; John F. Wiedle, Company G, left leg broken, and since amputated below the knee; Wm. Eldrell, Company I, left leg fractured and right leg bruised; Wm. Trall, Company I, badly bruised; Sergeant Kissinger, Company I, chest cut; Joseph Baker, Company I, ankle sprained. Many others were slightly injured.

At a great meeting held in Memphis a few nights ago, Governor Johnson was heartily indorsed. Letters from the Editor of the Memphis Bulletin, and others, have been received here, favoring immediate emancipation in Tennessee. Memphis is ahead of Nashville in political harmony.

Of late, numerous little guerrilla raids have taken place in Lincoln and other counties in the middle section of the State. Gen. THOMAS has rigidly enforced his order of assessing citizens to the amount of all damage done, and at the present time all the citizens are in arms, resolved to save their property by hunting down the guerrillas themselves. That's just what the guerrilla warfare will come to if the authorities pursue the right mode of correcting it.

Gen. GRANT occupied a private box at the theatre last evening, and witnessed the performance until its close. Both theatres are doing a smashing business. Mr. BOOTH terminated a successful engagement at the old theatre on Saturday night last, and Miss AVONIA JONES did the same thing at the new theatre.

THE WAR IN WESTERN VIRGINIA.

Capture of Some of Mosby's Men—More Refugees—Preparations for Washington's Birthday.

DEPARTMENT OF WESTERN VIRGINIA, Sunday, Feb. 21, 1864.

Yesterday Major COLE, while in command of a portion of the First Maryland Cavalry Battalion, had a skirmish at Piedmont Station, Fauquier County, with MOSBY'S command.

Maj. COOK took seventeen prisoners, among them three officers.

We lost about two killed and two wounded.

The rebels are reported to have had five killed and a larger number wounded.

When attacked MOSBY had just received a commission as Lieutenant-Colonel, and himself and men were at the time having a jollification spree over the good luck they believed would attend the promotion.

The officers we captured were taken in their good clothes, they having put them on to make a "stunning" appearance at the social and jovial gathering of the friends and officers and men of the promoted Major.

There is nothing new to report from the Shenandoah Valley as regards EARLY'S position or movements in South Branch Valley.

Our scouts are active, making captures of guerrillas and picking up deserters.

From the Kanawha region there is nothing new.

Refugees continue to come in to Gen. CROOKS. It is approximated that two thousand refugees and deserters have come within the lines of Gen. KELLEY'S department since the 18th of January, 1864.

Preparations are being made at the different posts within this department to appropriately celebrate the 22d, WASHINGTON'S birthday.

The weather is moderate and threatening snow.

FROM THE MISSISSIPPI.

Heavy Enlistment of Negroes in Tennessee—Guerrilla Depredations—Attack upon our Forces at Vidalia, Miss.

ST. LOUIS, Sunday, Feb. 21.

The steamer Alton, from Memphis the 19th, with 400 bales of cotton for St. Louis, has arrived.

Gen. BUCKLAND has issued an order for the better protection of the steamers of his district from fire.

Over 12,000 negroes have already enlisted in Tennessee. Enlistments in the middle district average 500 per week.

Swarms of guerrillas are reported in the vicinity of Waterproof. They had fired three coal gins, which were burning when the steamer Julia passed up, and gunboats were shelling the woods.

Our forces at Vidalia, Miss., were recently attacked and driven by DICK TAYLOR. Reënforcements and gunboats came to our relief, and TAYLOR'S men scattered. A number were killed and wounded.

The Memphis cotton market was a little more active; strict middling, 66; good do., 68.

The weather at Cairo is mild, the thermometer standing at 65° to-day, with appearance of rain.

The steamer General Benton from below has arrived. After two or three days' skirmishing our forces captured YAZOO City, which they now hold.

From Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, Sunday, Feb. 21.

Quite a number of delegates to the Freedmen's Convention, at Louisville, have arrived, and more are expected to arrive before morning.

Large numbers of negroes from Christian County are making their way toward Clarkville, to enlist under the Union flag.

The court-martial of Gens. MCCOOK and CRITTENDEN will probably adjourn to-morrow. Gen. MCCOOK'S case is concluded, and Gen. CRITTENDEN'S will probably be finished to-morrow. Outsiders say both Generals will be thoroughly vindicated as military men.

All reports that the Louisville Journal has been or will be sold are utterly false.

Washington's Birthday in Boston—Returning Troops—Arrival of the Africa.

BOSTON, Sunday, Feb. 21.

The anniversary of WASHINGTON'S birthday will be generally observed in this city and vicinity to-morrow. The Custom-house, banks, insurance offices and other places of public business, and many stores, will be closed. The newspapers will also suspend publication.

The Fourteenth Maine Regiment and First Maine Battery arrived here this morning, and left for Portland at noon, in a special train.

The steamship Africa arrived at 5 o'clock. Her mails and the newspaper bag of the Associated Press leave for New-York by to-night's train.

Blockade Runner Sunk.

INDIANOLA, Thursday, Feb. 18.

The British steamer Ionia, from the Clyde, for Nassau, sunk this morning one mile east of Lucky Island. The crew have landed here. She was one of the fastest boats on the Clyde, steaming twenty-one miles per hour on her trial trip.

From Albany.

ALBANY, Sunday, Feb. 21.

A delegation from the Massachusetts Legislature, consisting of some twenty or thirty members, including the President of the Senate, visited this city on Saturday. They were invited to examine the Relief Bazaar, and during the evening called on the Governor.

Arrival of the Bohemian.

PORTLAND, Me., Sunday, Feb. 21.

The steamer Bohemian, from Liverpool 4th and Londonderry 5th inst., arrived at this port to-night, at 12 o'clock.

The Africa at Boston.

BOSTON, Sunday, Feb. 21.

The steamship Africa, from Liverpool, via Halifax, will be at her dock at about 5 o'clock this evening.

Sailing of the North American.

PORTLAND, Me., Feb. 21.

The steamship North American, for Liverpool, via Londonderry, sailed at 8 o'clock this morning.

A Splendid Afghan.

There is now on exhibition at the establishment of Mr. LOUIS SCHWARTS, corner of Cedar-street and Broadway, a specimen of needlework in the shape of an afghan, worthy of a visit from the curious. It is the result of six months' labor of a lady, and contains over sixty different shades of worsted. The design is simple yet beautiful. There is white centre-piece, nearly three feet square, on which is worked an American eagle, holding in his beak the olive branch and in his talons the American flag, a sword and gun. Around the centre piece is a border of blue, in which the stars of the Union are represented. The outer border is red, and is most elaborately embroidered. The whole is surrounded by an elegant fringe. A more appropriate donation to the Sanitary Fair could hardly be selected.

MILITARY FUNERALS.—Two military funerals took place yesterday—both from the City Hall, where the bodies laid in state from Saturday. One was that of Capt. JOHN SULLIVAN, and the other that of Lieut. JOHN J. IRWIN, both of the Ninetieth Regimen New-York Volunteers. They died at Key West from disease contracted while in the service.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE N. Y. TIMES

WASHINGTON, Sunday, Feb. 21.

WHOLESALE REBEL DESERTIONS—THE AMNESTY PROCLAMATION TAKING EFFECT.

A letter from the TIMES' correspondent at the front says that deserters continue to come in daily, particularly from the Louisiana regiments. Nearly the whole of the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Louisiana Regiments have deserted during the last month. The reason assigned by them for the stampede is that they had read the President's Amnesty Proclamation in one of our newspapers. Great efforts have been made by some of their officers to obtain possession of the contraband publication, but without success. It has passed through nearly every man's hands in those regiments, and when last seen was nearly worn out.

ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

Gen. MEADE left here this morning for the front. It is understood that the reorganization of the army will begin immediately. Two more deserters from Pennsylvania regiments, in Gen. MEADE'S army, are to be executed on the 26th.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.

WASHINGTON'S birthday will be generally observed in the army. A dinner will be given by the officers of the Sixth Corps and a ball by the officers of the Second Corps, beside other entertainments in the several brigades and divisions.

THE MISSOURI AND MISSISSIPPI RAILROAD.

The Western members generally favor Mr. ALISON'S bill in behalf of the Mississippi and Missouri Railroad. Should it pass, that road is to be completed at once to its junction with the Pacific Railway, and extensive land grants will be added to those now held by the company.

PETROLEUM.

Petroleum operators feel certain that the Ways and Means Committee will place an additional tax on the refined article. It is uncertain, however, whether they will tax the crude article to the figure recommended by the Secretary of the Treasury.

DISPATCHES TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sunday, Feb. 21.

DIFFICULTIES OF POTOMAC NAVIGATION.

The steamers Portland and Kingston, towing twelve Government barges, loaded with forage, for the safety of which some apprehensions were entertained, arrived here last night. The Portland cut a new channel through ice six inches in thickness from Maryland Point to her wharf in this city.

DEATH OF MR. BOULIGNY, OF LOUISIANA.

Ex-Representative BOULIGNY, of Louisiana, died here yesterday. He sternly refused to follow the example of his colleagues and the other secession members in withdrawing from the House during the Thirty-sixth Congress, and served the full term for which he was elected.

BENEFITS OF THE AMNESTY.

Circular of the Attorney-General.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.

SIR: Many persons, against whom criminal indictments or against whom property proceedings under the confiscation laws are pending in the courts of the United States, growing out of the participation of such persons in the existing rebellion, have in good faith taken the oath prescribed by the Proclamation of the President, of the 8th of December, 1863, and have therefore entitled themselves to the full pardon and restoration of all rights of property, except as to slaves and where the rights of third parties have intervened, which that proclamation offers and secures. The President's pardon of a person guilty of acts of rebellion will, of course, relieve that person from the penalties incurred by his crime, and where an indictment is pending against him therefor, the production of the pardon, signed by the President, or of satisfactory evidence that he has complied with the conditions on which the pardon is offered, if he be not of the class excepted from the benefits of the proclamation, will be a sufficient reason for discontinuing such criminal proceedings and discharging him from custody therein. Nor is it less doubtful that a bona fide acceptance of the terms of the President's Proclamation by persons guilty of acts of rebellion, and not of the excepted class, will secure to such a person a restoration of all the rights of property except as to slaves, and where the rights of third parties shall have intervened; notwithstanding such property may, by reason of those acts of rebellion, have been subject to confiscation under the provisions of the Confiscation Acts of Aug. 6, 1861, chapter 60, and July 17, 1862, chapter 195. For without adverting to any other source of power in the President to restore their rights of property, the 13th section of the Act of July 17, 1862, authorizes the President, at any time thereafter, by proclamation, to extend to persons who may have participated in the existing rebellion, in any State or part thereof, pardon and amnesty, with such exceptions and at such times and on such conditions as he may deem expedient for the public welfare. It will hardly be questioned, I suppose, that the purpose of this section, inserted in a law mainly intended to reach the property of persons engaged in the rebellion was to vest the President with full power to relieve such persons on such conditions as he should prescribe from the penalty of loss of their property by confiscation. Although the proceedings for confiscation under the Acts of August 6, 1861, and July 17, 1862, are in rem against the property seized, yet under both acts the ground of condemnation is the personal guilt of the owner in aiding the rebellion. By the pardon and amnesty, not only is the punishment of that personal guilt remitted, but the offence itself is effaced, that being the special effect of an act of amnesty of the Government. Of course it arrests and puts to an end all penal proceedings founded thereon, whether they touch the person or the property of the offender. There is, therefore, no case of judicial proceedings to enforce the penalties of acts of rebellion which cannot be reached and cured by the constitutional or statutory powers of the President to grant pardon and amnesty, whether those proceedings be against the person of the offender by criminal indictment, or against his property under the Confiscation Acts referred to. The President has accordingly directed me to instruct you that in any case where proceedings have been commenced and are pending and undetermined in the district or Circuit Courts of the United States for your District, against a person charged with acts of rebellion, and not of the excepted class, whether they be by indictment or seizure and libel of his property for confiscation, the rights of other parties not having intervened, you will discontinue and put an end to these proceedings, whenever the person so charged shall produce evidence satisfactory to you that he has, in good faith, taken the oath and complied with the conditions prescribed by the President's Proclamation of the 8th of December, 1863. Nor is it necessary that the evidence he produces should be a deed of pardon signed by the President. It would be quite impossible for the President to furnish the multitude who are now availing themselves of the benefits of the proclamation, and who are likely to do so hereafter, with this formal evidence of pardon; it will be sufficient to justify your action if the party seeking to be relieved from further proceeding shall prove to your full satisfaction that he has in good faith taken the oath, and brought himself within the conditions of pardon and amnesty set forth in the proclamation. If in any case you have good reason to believe that the oath has been taken for the mere purpose of obtaining the possession of personal property seized under the Confiscation Acts, with intent to remove it from the subsequent reach of the officers of the law, you will make report of the facts and reasons for your belief at this office before discontinuing the proceedings or restoring such property to the possession of the owner. Fugitives under section 5 of the Act of July 13, 1861, chapter 3, are not of the class reached by the President's Proclamation; for under that act, the question whether the property seized is subject to forfeiture depends upon the predicament of the property itself, and not upon the personal guilt or innocence of its owner. In this respect forfeitures under that act have more resemblance to cases of prize of war captured at sea as enemy's property, than to proceedings under the Act of August 1861, and July 1862. Such forfeitures are provided, not so much to punish the owner for disloyal acts, as to prohibit commercial intercourse and weaken the public enemy, which are always efficient instruments and legitimate effects of public war. But although the remission of forfeitures under the Act of July, 1861, are thus not within the scope of the Proclamation of Pardon, still ample power is conferred on the Secretary of the Treasury by the 8th section of that act to mitigate or remit all forfeitures and penalties incurred under the act. And it is not to be doubted that in all proper cases under that act, where the owner of the property residing in the territory in rebellion complies with the condition of the proclamation, the Secretary of the Treasury will exercise the power of remission of such forfeiture in the same spirit of generous forbearance and liberality which inspired and characterized the proclamation.

Very Respectfully, &c.

TITIAN J. COFFEY,
Acting Attorney-General.

A Handsome Compliment Well Deserved.

The public doubtless remember the energetic and serviceable efforts of Mr. LEONARD W. JEROME to promote the success of the great popular gathering at Utica last Summer, under the auspices of the Loyal League of this City, and especially to secure the attendance of the soldiers who had just returned from the war. A dozen or more of the prominent members of the Loyal League, desirous of testifying their appreciation of Mr. JEROME'S services in this matter, gave him a dinner at Delmonico's, on Fifth-avenue, on Friday evening last, and presented him a most elegant souvenir of the Utica meeting, in the form of a superb quarto volume, containing the original letters, telegrams, and other documents connected with it, handsomely engrossed copies of the address and resolutions adopted on the occasion, photographic likenesses of the most conspicuous participants, views of interesting scenes connected with it, and other matters of a similar kind. The collection is most skillfully arranged, bound in superb style, and bears inscribed upon the cover the name of Mr. JEROME and the occasion of its presentation. It was prepared under the careful and tasteful supervision of Gen. WETMORE, whose action and well directed efforts contributed so largely to the success of the meeting. Among those present at the dinner, on Friday, were Hon. D. S. Dickinson, Ex-Mayor Opdyke, James T. Brady, Esq., James Wadsworth, Esq., Ex-Lieut.-Gov. Tyler of Connecticut, and others. Mr. JEROME acknowledged the compliment of the presentation, which was made by Mr. WADSWORTH, in brief and very appropriate terms. There was a good deal of speaking on public topics from the several gentlemen present, and the occasion was one of unusual interest.

We cannot avoid saying in this connection that, since its enlargement by the addition of the adjoining house, Delmonico's is the most spacious, elegant and complete restaurant in the world. There is nothing in Paris or any other European city, so far as we are aware, that can surpass it in the excellence of its appointments and the general elegance and comfort of everything connected with it. It has added immensely to the comfort and convenience of living in town, and is abundantly patronized, as it deserves to be.

Sudden Death of Austin B. Williams, a well-known Printer.

Mr. AUSTIN B. WILLIAMS, a widely-known and highly respected printer, and for twelve years past employed in the NEW-YORK TIMES establishment, died suddenly at the Hydropathic Institution of Dr. TRALL & Co., in Laight-street, yesterday morning, Feb. 21. Mr. WILLIAMS' personal appearance—(being, perhaps, the largest and heaviest man since the days of Mr. HOLT, in this City, weighing some 420 pounds, and requiring no less than seventeen yards of broadcloth to complete his exterior outfit)—made him an object of especial and peculiar interest to all associated with him. His humor and ready wit were of a superior order, and these, with his extraordinary proportions, made him a "host" among his associates. Mr. P. T. BARNUM repeatedly sought him for his popular resort as a natural curiosity, but his exceeding sensitiveness and peculiar character would never permit him to become an object of popular curiosity. He was extremely timid and bashful when in the presence of ladies, and would resort to any subterfuge to escape their company.

Still more notable characteristics of Mr. WILLIAMS may be found in the simple fact that he never knew the taste of ardent spirits nor tobacco, never wore an overcoat, and eschewed the common vices of mankind to a degree seldom annalled. He was a native of Exeter, N. H., and in the 31st year of his age. About a week since, while on his way home, he was seized with an attack of apoplexy, and lingered until Sunday morning, when he passed away.

REOPENING OF ST. JAMES' CHURCH.—Yesterday was celebrated the grand reopening of St. James' Church. Since its close the interior has been entirely renewed, and it is now one of the most beautiful churches in the City. The three new altars are most elegant, and in richness of appearance surpass almost all. The decorations of the church are very fine, particularly the three paintings over the altar, representing "The Crucifixion," "The Savior Raising to Life the Daughter of Gallus," and "The Holy Family." On the walls around the church are numerous figures in bas relief, illustrating various portions of the Scripture; they are very finely executed, and add greatly to the beauty of the church. In the morning the solemn and impressive ceremonies of grand high mass were performed by the pastor, Rev. J. BRANNAN, celebrant, assisted by Deacon Rev. Mr. BRODY, Subdeacon Rev. Mr. KERGAN, and Master of Ceremonies Rev. Mr. CALLAHAN, the assistant pastor. The Very Rev. Father STARR, administrator of the diocese, delivered the sermon. There were also present a great number of the dignitaries of the Catholic Church, among whom were Rev. Father MCANINERNEY, of the Cathedral; Rev. Father FARRELL, of St. Joseph's; Rev. Fathers MCCARTY, O'DONNELL, REYNOLDS and GLEASON. Also, Rev. Fathers MCLAUGHLIN, of Flatbush, CASSIDY and MCKENNA, of Brooklyn, and numerous others. Long before the hour of service, the church was crowded to its utmost, and many were turned away unable to gain admission. Judge DALY and lady and many other distinguished persons were present.

THE SKATING AT CENTRAL PARK.—The last of the skating season, like the near approach of any great dramatic, musical or Terpsichorean event, seems to stir up every one who had delayed till the last moment participating in its pleasures; for the various routes to the Fifth-avenue Pond and Central Park Lakes, were more than usually alive on Saturday, with all classes of persons, on their way to mingle in the skating carnival. Strings of carriages lined the approaches to the Fifth-avenue Pond, where the company was more select, yet very numerous; a fine band of music enlivening the attractions, and the excellent arrangements in the spacious saloons adding to the comfort of visitors. Yesterday, the delightful weather caused such a scene on the various routes to the Park, and at the Park itself, as has seldom been witnessed on any great occasion in New-York. The carsiwere not able to accommodate the skaters, although every available one which could be got ready, was put on the different routes by the companies. The scene at the Central Park cannot easily be described. To lessen the danger of a general break in, the ball was lowered between 2 and 3 o'clock, to check the coming adventurous thousands; the ice being very much cut up by the combined influence of the sun and the tens of thousands of skaters. If the ice is in condition to-day, the usual signal will be raised on the cars; the Fifth-avenue Pond will be open as usual, as it was not so much cut up as the Central Park Lakes.

RESCUED FROM DROWNING.—Early yesterday morning two children playing on the ice in the vicinity of Harlem Bridge, broke through and were rescued from drowning by Mr. E. R. WUNDER, doing business on Bleecker-street. Mr. WUNDER, at the time of the accident, was in his buggy, driving near the bank of the river, and was attracted to the scene of disaster by the cries of the children. It was with considerable personal danger and great difficulty he succeeded in drawing them to the shore. Learning the residence of the parents, which was near by, Mr. WUNDER took the children to his buggy, and wrapping the smallest one, a little girl about six years of age, in his robe, carried them to their home.

FROM ALBANY.

Work of the Legislature—The Bills that Have Become Law—The Long Vacation.

ALBANY, Saturday, Feb. 20, 1864.

The Legislature has accomplished a creditable amount of work in the first half of the session. A special election has been provided for, to be held on Tuesday, the 8th day of March, to submit an amendment of the Constitution, in relation to soldiers voting, to the people. A bill has been passed legalizing the payment of local bounties throughout the State to an unlimited extent; the Niagara Ship Canal question has been disposed of for the session; the Metropolitan Police Bill, in the right shape, has passed the Senate; the Militia or National Guard question has been discussed; the bank men of the State have had a hearing; and the Annual Message of His Excellency the Governor, has been the object of an incessant and very effective bombardment.

During the session thus far, five hundred and fifty-three bills have been introduced in the Assembly, and sixty-eight have come down from the Senate. Sixty-one of these introduced and twelve of those coming from the Senate, have passed the Assembly.

Two hundred and forty-seven bills have been introduced in the Senate, and fifty-seven have been sent in from the Assembly. Seventy-three of those introduced, and twenty of those sent in from the Assembly, have passed the Senate.

The following bills passed, have received the signature of the Governor: To perfect an amendment of the Constitution providing for the vote of electors in the military service of the United States; to amend Auburn City Charter; to amend School Act of Auburn; to amend Charter of Village of West Troy; to authorize the Supervisors of Kings County to construct a sewer from the County buildings at Flatbush; to authorize the Commercial Bank of Saratoga Springs to reduce its capital stock; to prevent unlawful enlistments in the State, being an amendment of laws of 1863; to amend an act to incorporate the Protestant Episcopal Tract Society; to release the interest of the people of the State of New-York, in certain real estate, to JAMES KENNEDY; to legalize certain ordinances of the Board of Supervisors of the County of New-York, and provide for the payment of the bonds therein specified; also to authorize the borrowing of an additional amount of money, for the payment of riot damages and military bounties; to release the interest of the State in certain real estate to CATHARINE MULLER; the "General Bounty Bill," legalizing local bounties to an unlimited extent throughout the State; to amend an act entitled "An act to legalize certain ordinances of the Board of Supervisors of the County of New-York, and to provide for the payment of bonds, &c.,&c.;" to incorporate the Missionary Society of the Most Holy Redeemer, in the State of New-York; to amend an act entitled "An act to incorporate the Protestant Episcopal Tract Society," passed April 29, 1863; to incorporate the Roosevelt Hospital in the City of New-York.

The members of the Legislature have earned by their industry a right to the rest which many of them are now enjoying. Some of them will be at work on committees or other work connected with their business in Legislature during the recess.

Brooklyn Sanitary Fair.

THE PREPARATIONS AND ARRANGEMENTS.

The extensive preparations which have been made by the citizens of Brooklyn for their approaching fair in aid of the Sanitary Commission, are nearly completed, and this evening at 7 o'clock, the Academy of Music, on Montague-street, will be opened to the public. A parade of the military will take place during the day, in which the veterans now in Brooklyn, together with the local military, will participate. They will pass the Academy in review at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The various departments of the fair have been arranged as follows:

1. The auditorium of the Academy, floored over through its entire area to the extent of more than 11,000 square feet, as a great ladies' bazaar for the sale of the lighter and more elegant kinds of dry and fancy goods, articles of vertu, and articles which are the product of woman's taste and skill.

2. The Art Gallery of paintings and sculpture in the concert room of the Academy.

3. The Museum and other works of art, relics and curiosities, memorials of the wars of the Union, past and present. Many of these articles are gifts, and to be sold for the fair; and others are loans on exhibition. The Museum is near the northeast corner of Montague and Clinton streets, in the immediate vicinity of the Academy.

4. The New-England Kitchen, which will represent New-England farm-house life in the last century, and offer substantial New-England fare of the best materials and cooking. In the kitchen, there will be, according to future announcements, various entertainments illustrative of the olden time. The kitchen is entered either directly from Montague-street, opposite the Academy, or by a covered bridge thrown across the street from the eastern end of the Academy.

On the western end of the Academy is Knickerbocker Hall, the refreshment room of the fair, where meals will be served at all business hours of the fair.

There are to be no sales of wines and no raffling.

The Post-office, in charge of a committee of ladies and gentlemen, will occupy the proscenium box on the right of the stage.

The table of the Committee of Finance, where cash contributions will be received, will be on the opposite side of the stage.

The Drum Beat, under the editorial charge of Rev. Dr. STORRS, will be published daily, and for sale in all the departments.

Dodworth's and the Navy-Yard Bands will be present each evening during the first week.

The prices of admission will be as follows:

1. Ticket admitting one person on Monday evening only, the opening night of the fair, to all the departments, two dollars.

2. Season ticket, not transferable, admitting the holder at all times to all departments of the fair, at its opening and to its close, four dollars.

3. Season ticket, not transferable, admitting the holder to all the departments of the fair, at all times on and after to-morrow, two dollars.

4. Single tickets for the remainder of the first week after the opening night, to the auditorium, fifty cents; to each of the other departments, twenty-five cents.

5. Single tickets for the second week to the close of the fair, to each and all the departments, twenty-five cents.

To-morrow, and thereafter, during the fair, the hours of business will be from 11 A. M. to 10 P. M., each day. A signal for the company to retire will be given every night precisely at the last-named hour.

DESTRUCTION OF A TOBACCO WAREHOUSE BY FIRE.—Between 11 and 12 o'clock on Saturday night, a fire broke out in the tobacco manufactory of THOS. WATSON, situated in Sedgewick-street, between Van Brunt and Columbia streets. The flames originated on the second floor, as supposed from a grate, from which live coals fell, and setting fire to some dry tobacco leaves, spread to a tier of twenty-five barrels of New-England rum. Thence the flames spread with great rapidity, and the entire building was soon enveloped. The value of stock on hand is estimated at over $50,000. Some was saved, but a large portion was destroyed by fire, or damaged by water

MISCELLANEOUS.

"THE PEN IS MIGHTIER THAN THE SWORD."

THE GOLD PEN—THE BEST OF ALL PENS,

MORTON'S GOLD PENS,

THE BEST PENS IN THE WORLD.

On receipt of any of the following sums in Cash, the subscriber will send by return mail, or otherwise, as directed, a Gold Pen or Pens—selecting the same according to description, viz.:

GOLD PENS WITHOUT CASES.

For 25 cents, the Magic Pen; for 38 cents, the Lucky Pen; for 50 cents, the Always-Ready Pen; for 75 cents, the Elegant Pen; and for $1, the Excelsior Pen. These Pens are not numbered, but correspond in sizes to Numbers 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 respectively.

THE SAME PENS IN SILVER-PLATED EXTENSION CASES, WITH PENCILS.

For 50 cents, the Magic Pen; for 75 cents, the Lucky Pen; for $1, the Always-Ready Pen; for $1 25, the Elegant Pen, and for $1 50, the Excelsior Pen.

These are Well-Finished, Good-Writing Gold Pens, with Iridiomin Points, the average wear of every one of which will far outlast a gross of the best Steel Pens, although they are unwarranted, and, therefore, not exchangeable.

MORTON'S WARRANTED PENS.

The name "A. Morton," "Number," and "Quality," are stamped on the following Pens, and the points are warranted for six months, except against accident.

The Numbers indicate size only; No. 1 being the smallest, No. 6 the largest, adapted for the pocket; No. 4 the smallest, and No. 10 the largest Mammoth Gold Pen, for the desk.

Long and Medium Nibs of all sizes and qualities. Short Nibs of Numbers 4, 5, 6 and 7, and made only of first quality.

The Long and Short Nibs are fine pointed; the Medium Nibs are Broad, Coarse Business points. The engravings are fac-similies of the sizes and styles.

GOLD PENS, WITHOUT CASES.

For $0 75 a No. 1 Pen, 1st quality; or a No. 3 Pen, 3d quality.
For $1 a No. 2 Pen, 1st quality; or a No. 3 Pen, 2d quality; or a No. 4 Pen, 3d quality.
For $1 25 a No. 3 Pen, 1st quality; or a No. 4 Pen, 2d quality; or a No. 5 Pen, 3d quality.
For $1 50 a No. 4 Pen, 1st quality; or a No. 5 Pen, 2d quality; or a No. 6 Pen, 3d quality.
For $1 75 a No. 5 Pen, 1st quality; or a No. 6 Pen, 2d quality.
For $2 25 a No. 6 Pen; $2 75 a No. 7 Pen; $3 25 a No. 8 Pen; $4 a No. 9 Pen; $5 a No. 10 Pen—all 1st quality.

THE SAME GOLD PENS, IN SILVER EXTENSION CASES, WITH PENCILS.

For $1 50 a No. 1 Pen, 1st quality; or a No. 3 Pen, 3d quality.
For $1 75 a No. 2 Pen, 1st quality; or a No. 3 Pen, 2d quality; or a No. 4 Pen, 3d quality.
For $2 a No. 3 Pen, 1st quality; or a No. 4 Pen, 2d quality; or a No. 5 Pen, 3d quality.
For $2 50 a No. 4 Pen, 1st quality; or a No. 5 Pen, 2d quality; or a No. 6 Pen, 3d quality.
For $3 a No. 5 Pen, 1st quality; or a No. 6 Pen, 2d quality.
For $3 50 a No. 6 Pen, 1st quality.

GOLD PENS, ALL FIRST QUALITY, IN SILVER-MOUNTED DESK-HOLDERS.

For $2 00 a No. 4 Pen; for $2 25 a No. 5 Pen; for $2 75 a No. 6 Pen; for $3 50 a No. 7 Pen.
For $4 00 a No. 8 Pen; for $5 a No. 9 Pen; and for $6, No. 10 Pen.

The "1st Quality" are pointed with the very best Iridiomin Points, carefully selected, and none of this quality are sold with the slightest imperfection which skill and the closest scrutiny can detect.

The "2d Quality" are superior to any Pens made by him previous to the year 1860.

The "3d Quality" he intends shall equal in respect to Durability, Elasticity and Good Writing Qualities (the only true considerations) any Gold Pens made elsewhere.

In regard to the Cheap Gold Pens, he begs leave to say that, previous to operating his New and Patented Machinery, he could not have made as Good Writing and Durable Pens, for the price, had the Gold been furnished gratuitously.

Parties ordering must in all instances specify the "Name" or the "Number" and "Quality" of the Pens wanted, and be particular to describe the kind they prefer—whether stiff or limber, coarse or fine.

All remittances sent by mail in registered letters are at my risk; and to all who send twenty cents (charge for registering,) in addition to the price of goods ordered, I will guarantee their safe delivery.

Parties sending Gold or Silver will be allowed the full premium on the day received.

TO CLUBS—A discount of 10 per cent. will be allowed on sums of $12, of 15 per cent. on $24, and of 20 per cent on $48, if sent to one address at one time.

GROCERIES & PROVISIONS.

THOMAS R. AGNEW, WHO IS FAMED for his energy and enterprise as the grocer and tea and coffee dealer of this City, has just opened an extensive wholesale department of his business at No. 262 Greenwich-st., right adjoining his retail store. Both these extensive establishments will be conducted exclusively on the cash principle, and everybody who wishes to save money and buy for cash, either wholesale or retail, every description of teas, sugars, flour, fish, syrups, molasses, butter, cheese, lard, hams, coffees, starch, soap, &c., &c., &c., should at once repair as above. All goods warranted as represented, or money returned and expenses paid. Mr. Agnew's experience and large cash capital, which he can control to the extent of half a million of dollars, will enable him to compete successfully with any house or houses in New-York, and we predict that this new wholesale department will be a complete success, as his other store has been, and still continues to be.

All orders from the country should be accompanied with the cash, or paid for by some house in the City.

All goods delivered free to railroads and steamboats. Address Nos. 260 and 262 Greenwich-st., and Nos. 87 and 89 Murray-st.

PUBLIC NOTICES.

CORPORATION NOTICE.—THE FOLLOWing is published by direction of the Common Council, for the information of all whom it may concern.

D. T. VALENTINE,
Clerk of the Common Council.

Whereas, Designing persons have falsely represented to some of the returned volunteer soldiers belonging to New-York City regiments, and others, that the families of such soldiers, residing in this City and county, will be entitled to share or participate in the benefits of the "Ordinance to provide for a continuance of the aid heretofore granted to the families of volunteer soldiers from the City of New-York, serving in the Army of the Union," should such soldiers reënlist in, and be credited to any of the neighboring counties; and

Whereas, In consequence of such misrepresentations, many soldiers, belonging heretofore to New-York City regiments, have reënlisted in other counties, in order to receive increased bounties, under the impression that the aid afforded heretofore by the authorities of this City will be continued to the families of such soldiers; and

Whereas, Justice alike to the City of New-York and the families of its volunteer soldiers, imperatively demands that measures should at once be taken to prevent the repetition of such disreputable practices, which tend to defeat the objects contemplated by the passage of the ordinance in question, viz.: encouraging enlistments in this City by providing for the families of volunteers during the continuance of the war; and

Whereas, The wording of the eighth section of the said ordinance being ambiguous, advantage is taken of the circumstance by such designing persons to induce the returned volunteers, and others, to enlist elsewhere than in the City of New-York: be it therefore,

Resolved, That section eight of the "Ordinance to provide for a continuation of the aid heretofore granted to the families of volunteer soldiers from the City of New-York, serving in the Army of the Union," approved Feb. 9, 1864, is hereby amended, and shall read as follows:

SEC. 8. No order for relief shall be given to any person who is not, at the time of making the application, a resident of this City, and who was not a resident at the date of the enlistment of the soldier on whose behalf the application for relief is made. Relief shall only be allowed to the families of such soldiers as shall enlist in, or be credited to, the City and County of New-York, and shall have been mustered into the service of the United States, and are actually doing duty in camp or garrison; excepting that the families of those who are sick or wounded or have been killed, or have died from the effects of wounds received, or diseases contracted while in the service of the Government, shall be entitled to the same allowance as if the soldier was in actual service. Nor shall relief be allowed to the family of any soldier who belongs to the Invalid Corps, unless such soldier is counted and allowed on the quota of the City of New-York, under the Proclamation of the President of the United States, dated Oct. 17, 1863.

Resolved, That the Clerk of the Common Council be, and hereby is, authorized and directed to cause the foregoing preamble and resolution to be published in the principal newspapers published in this City until the 10th day of March, 1864.

Adopted by the Board of Councilmen, February 11, 1864.

Adopted by the Board of Aldermen, Feb. 16, 1864.

Approved by the Mayor, February 19, 1864.

D. T. VALENTINE,
Clerk Common Council.

NOTICE TO TAX-PAYERS.

OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF TAXES AND ASSESSMENTS, No. 32 CHAMBERS-ST.,
NEW-YORK, Jan. 9, 1864.

Notice is hereby given that the ASSESSMENT ROLLS of the REAL and PERSONAL ESTATE of the City and County of New-York, for the year 1864, will be open for inspection and review from after MONDAY, Jan. 11, 1864, and will remain open till the 30th day of April, 1864, for the correction of errors and the equalization of the assessments of the aforesaid real and personal estate of the City and County of New-York. All persons believing themselves to be aggrieved, must make application to the Commissioners during the period above mentioned, in order to obtain the relief provided by law. The Act of 1859 provides that "During the time the books shall be open to public inspection, as hereinbefore provided, application may be made by any person considering himself aggrieved by the assessed valuation of his real or personal estate, to have the same corrected." If such application be made in relation to the assessed valuation of the real estate, it must be made in writing, stating the ground of objection thereto, and thereupon the Commissioners shall examine into the complaint, and if, in their judgment, the assessment is erroneous, they shall cause the same to be corrected. If such application be made in relation to the assessed valuation of personal estate, the applicant shall be examined under oath by the said Commissioners, who shall be authorized to administer such oath, or any of them; and if in his or their judgment, the assessment is erroneous, they shall cause the same to be corrected, and fix the amount of such assessment as they may believe to be just, and declare their decision thereon within thirty days after such application shall have been made to them. No reduction shall be made by the Board of Supervisors of any assessment on real and personal estate imposed under this act, unless it shall appear, under oath or affirmation, that the party aggrieved was unable to attend within the period prescribed for the correction of taxes, by reason of sickness or absence from the City.

J. WILLIAMSON,
J. W. ALLEN,
J. W. BROWN,
Commissioners of Taxes and Assessments.

THE COMMITTEE ON FINANCE OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN will meet every day next week, at one o'clock P. M., on MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, FRIDAY, SATURDAY, the twenty-second, twenty-third, twenty-fourth, twenty-fifth, twenty-sixth and twenty-seventh instant, in Room number eight City Hall.

PROPOSALS FOR HORSES.

CHIEF QUARTERMASTER'S OFFICE,
DEPOT OF WASHINGTON,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 10, 1864.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at this office until TUESDAY, Feb. 23, 1864, at 12 o'clock M., for furnishing the Government with (2,000) two thousand horses, of the following description, viz :

ARTILLERY.

For Artillery, (2,000) two thousand horses, from (15½) fifteen and one-half to (16) sixteen hands high, between five (5) and eight (8) years of age, of dark colors, free from all defects, and well broken to harness, compactly built, and to weigh not less than one thousand one hundred (1,100) pounds.

PROPOSALS.

The full name and Post-office address of the bidder must appear in the proposal.

If a bid is made in the name of a firm, the names of all the parties must appear, or the bid will be considered as the individual proposal of the party signing it.

Proposals from disloyal parties will not be considered, and an oath of allegiance will be required from successful bidders before signing contracts.

Proposals must be addressed to Brigadier-General D. H. Rucker, Quartermaster United States Army, Washington, D. C., and should be plainly marked "Proposals for Horses."

The bidder will be required to accompany his proposal with a guarantee, signed by two responsible persons, that in case his bid is accepted, he or they will at once execute the contract for the same, with good and sufficient sureties in a sum equal to the amount of the contract, to deliver the horses proposed, in conformity with the terms of this advertisement; and in case the said bidder should fail to enter into the contract, they to make good the difference between the offer of said bidder and the next lowest responsible bidder, or the person to whom the contract may be awarded.

The responsibility of the guarantors must be shown by the official certificate of a United States District Attorney, Collector of Customs, or any other officer under the United States Government, or responsible person known to this office.

Bonds in a sum equal to the amount of the contract, signed by the contractor and both of his guarantors, will be required of the successful bidder or bidders upon signing the contract.

GUARANTY.

We, the undersigned, residents of ——, in the County of ——, and State of ——, hereby, jointly and severally covenant with the United States, and guarantee in case the foregoing bid of ——— be accepted, that he or they will at once execute the contract for the same with good and sufficient sureties, in a sum equal to the amount of the contract; and, in case the said ——— shall fail to enter into a contract as aforesaid, we guarantee to make good the difference between the offer of the said ——— and the next lowest responsible bidder, or the person to whom the contract may be awarded.

Witness : { Given under our hands and seals this —— day of ——, 186—.

[Seal.]
[Seal.]

I hereby certify that, to the best of my knowledge and belief, the above-named guarantors are good and sufficient as sureties for the amount for which they offer to be security.

——————
To be certified by the United States District Attorney, Collector of Customs, or any other officer under the United States Government or responsible person known to this office.

INSPECTION, DELIVERY, &c.

All horses contracted for under this advertisement will be subject to a rigid inspection, and those not conforming to the specifications will be rejected.

No mares will be received.

The horses must be delivered in this City within twenty-five days from the date of the contract.

Payment to be made upon the completion of the contract, or so soon thereafter as the Chief Quartermaster shall be in funds.

These horses will be awarded in lots of (200) two hundred each, unless the Chief Quartermaster should deem it for the interest of the Government to vary the number.

The Chief Quartermaster reserves to himself the right to reject any or all bids that he may deem too high.

D. H. RUCKER,
Brigadier-General and Chief Quartermaster.
Depot of Washington.

ARMY CLOTHING AND EQUIPAGE OFFICE,

WASHINGTON DEPOT, Dec. 8, 1863.

SEALED PROPOSALS are invited by the undersigned for supplying the United States Quartermaster's Department, at Washington, D. C., Baltimore, Md., Alexandria and Fort Monroe, Va., or either of these places, with Hay, Corn, Oats and Straw.

Bids will be received for the delivery of 5,000 bushels of corn or oats, and 50 tons of hay or straw, and upward.

Bidders must state at which of the above-named points they propose to make deliveries, and the rates at which they will make deliveries thereat, the quantity of each article proposed to be delivered, the time when said deliveries shall be commenced, and when to be completed.

The price must be written out in words on the bids.

Corn to be put up in good stout sacks, of about two bushels each. Oats in like sacks, of about three bushels each. The sacks to be furnished without extra charge to the Government. The hay and straw to be securely baled.

The particular kind or description of oats, corn, hay or straw, proposed to be delivered must be stated in the proposals.

All the articles offered under the bids herein invited, will be subject to a rigid inspection by the Government Inspector before being accepted.

Contracts will be awarded from time to time to the lowest responsible bidder, as the interest of the Government may require, and payment will be made when the whole amount contracted for shall have been delivered and accepted.

The bidder will be required to accompany his proposal with a guarantee, signed by two responsible persons, that in case his bid is accepted, he or they will, within ten days thereafter, execute the contract for the same, with good and sufficient sureties, in a sum equal to the amount of the contract, to deliver the forage proposed in conformity with the terms of this advertisement; and in case the said bidder should fail to enter into the contract, they to make good the difference between the offer of said bidder and the next lowest responsible bidder, or the person to whom the contract may be awarded.

The responsibility of the guarantors must be shown by the official certificate of a United States District-Attorney, Collector of Customs, or any other officer under the United States Government, or responsible person known to this office.

All bidders will be duly notified of the acceptance or rejection of their proposals.

The full name and Post-office address of each bidder must be legibly written in the proposal.

Proposals must be addressed to Brigadier-General D. H. Rucker, Chief Depot Quartermaster, Washington, D. C., and should be plainly marked "Proposals for Forage."

Bonds, inbesum equal to the amount of the contract, signed by the contractor and both of his guarantors, will be requiredtof the successful bidder or bidders upon signing the contract.

Blank forms of bids, guarantees, and bonds, may be obtained upon application at this office.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

A dispatch from Huntsville, Ala., gives the bald statement that a heavy battle is reported to have taken place between the forces of Gen. Sherman and the rebels under Polk, near Brandon, Miss., in which Polk was whipped, and lost 12,000 in prisoners alone. A few days since the report of a battle at Brandon came to us from rebel sources. The same dispatch says that Gen. Dodge has frustrated an attempt on the part of a large force of rebels to cross the Tennessee River at three separate ferries. The enemy are believed to have been Rhoddy's command. Our loss is reported to have been slight.

A dispatch from Cairo gives further details concerning the brilliant advance of Gen. Sherman's army. It passed through Jackson, Miss., in two columns, driving the enemy so precipitately across Pearl River that he left his pontoons and two pieces of artillery behind him. Our forces seized provisions and supplies, and swept on, reaching Meridian in the short space of ten days after leaving Vicksburgh. Large numbers of deserters had come to our army from Tennessee, Kentucky and Mississippi regiments. Refugees report that great fear is felt by the Mobilians at the threatened attack upon the city. The rebels have there a garrison of 15,000 men.

The steamships Arago and George Washington arrived on Saturday from New-Orleans, the latter with dates to the 13th. The Arago stopped at Key West, whence she brings a mail. The 19th Maine Volunteers and the 1st Maine Battery, both reënlisted, came home by her on furlough. The George Washington brings advices from Indianola, Texas, to the 8th inst. Nearly all the troops there were reënlisting. An expedition sent out in search of rebels and lumber had returned. They found no signs of the enemy, but brought in a lot of lumber. Gen. Benton having gone North to testify in an important case at St. Louis, Gen. Fitz Henry Warren was in command of the division during his absence. At New-Orleans gold was quoted at 62½@64 per cent. premium. The cotton market was dull at 68½ for good ordinary to 76½ for strict middling. Sugar and molasses were in good demand. The George Washington passed the gunboat Arizona and bark Anderson going up the river; and on the 15th, when one hundred miles west of Tortugas, she passed the steamer Merrimack, bound for New-Orleans.

The old regiments are returning from their thirty days' visists to their homes with an average of one hundred and forty new recruits each. Very nearly one hundred and ten thousand new recruits have been formally mustered into the service since the 1st of November last, and many more thousands are known to be enlisted, although not yet mustered in. The last two weeks the enlistments have averaged 1,800 a day. Of the number formally mustered into the service New-York has furnished about 16,000, Ohio 16,000, Indiana and Illinois 12,000 each, Missouri about 7,000, and Pennsylvania the same number.

Intelligence from Fort Smith, Ark., announces the retirement of the rebel Gen. Price to Mexico, on a continuous furlough, probably because of his well-settled convictions of the hopelessness of the cause of secession. The arrival of refugees from Texas has been quite numerous, but recently the rebels have made it quite difficult for fugitives to enter the Union lines in Arkansas.

The Cincinnati Commercial has a dispatch from Louisa, Ky., saying that on the 14th inst., Col. Gallup surprised the rebel Col. Ferguson's command in Wayne County, West Virginia, captured 60 prisoners, four of whom were commissioned officers, eighty stand of arms, a number of stolen horses, and supplies of forage and ammunition. This Ferguson is the person who recently captured Gen. Scammon. The report further says that 500 Union prisoners were released.

FROM EUROPE.

By the arrival on Saturday of the steamship Africa at Halifax, we have three days' later advices from Europe. The news concerning the Dano-German war is very meagre. A dispatch from Hamburg on the morning of the 6th says that severe fighting has been going on, as numbers of wounded were constantly coming into Rendsburg; but no particulars were received, and it was supposed that the Prussians had prohibited the transmission of news. A later dispatch announces the evacuation of Schleswig by the Danes, and its occupation by the Allies. Nothing is known as to the capture of Missunde. The attack on that position on the 2d was made by a force of two thousand Prussians, who were opposed by two thousand Danes. The Prussians twice attempted to carry the Danish works by assault, and were repulsed on both occasions with heavy loss. In the British Parliament the Queen's Speech had been under consideration by both Houses, and an address in reply had been adopted. In the course of the debate in the House of Lords on the foreign policy of the Government, Earl Derby characterized the policy of Earl Russell as humiliating to England, and repudiated the idea of British responsibility to the Government of the United States for the depredations of the Alabama. He trusted such a reply had been forwarded to Washington as would forever put an end to such demands. In his reply Earl Russell said that England had not given the slightest promise of assistance to Denmark. In the Commons, during the discussion of the speech, Mr. Disraeli expressed himself of the opinion that the Queen should have made some allusion to American affairs, and complained of her silence. Lord Palmerston replied vigorously, defending the course of the Government. At a ball given on the 3d inst. by Louis Napoleon, at the Tuileries, he remarked to a knot of Field-Marshals and Generals that the war in the North did not concern France, and her course, therefore, would be non-intervention—a sentiment which was concurred in by those to whom it was addressed.

GENERAL NEWS.

Gen. Logan's recent expedition into Northeastern Alabama developed the fact that almost the entire population of that section of the State is honestly, intensely loyal—as much so as the East Tennesseans. Men who had lived in the mountains two years to avoid rebel service, came in and asked to be mustered as soldiers in the Federal army. One Alabamian, McCurdy, during the expedition, made up a company, enrolled their names on a piece of brown paper with a pencil, borrowed arms, and actually went out with his men and captured a company of bushwhackers called Home Guards, and brought them into our camp.

The greatest cavalry expedition of the war has started from Memphis and Corinth, and is now moving into the vitals of the South. It is under command of Gens. Smith and Grierson. It is a part, and the precursor of Gen. Sherman's movement from Vicksburgh toward Jackson and Meridian, and its mission, we presume, is to cut the railroads in Alabama and Mississippi, so as to isolate Polk's army at Meridian. The total force is about 10,000 men. It will probably emerge from rebeldom at Madisonville, La., Pensacola, or near Chattanooga.

The Stock Market was again very much excited on the Railway speculation on Saturday, and left off higher than on Friday night. The business done was very large, and it was kept up until late in the evening. Gold steady at 159½; Money in easy supply.

Washington's Birthday.

Has the birthday of Washington any lesson for us? We are engaged in the most tremendous civil war which the world has seen. The nation, of which he was the leader, in its struggle for birth and place among the nations of the earth, has been for three years carrying on a struggle for existence, compared with which the toils and pains of that earlier contest are not to be named. Have we lost in the heat of the conflict anything of the veneration with which we think of the hero whose birth we celebrate to-day? Are we losing sight of those things which he held dear and setting at naught the principles for which his days of toil and nights of anxiety were spent? There are men among us who claim that we are, but they are of those who have had the least appreciation of Washington in years that are past, but have used his name as a shield for schemes and policies which his heart would have revolted from. Says the Journal of Commerce: "The approach of the 22d of February suggests the sorrowful reflection that the memory of Washington is falling into disrespect. The dominant party has no desire to keep him before the country as a father, a teacher, or an example."

We declare that the statement is utterly untrue. That memory is not falling into disrespect. There never was a time when those things which Washington most valued were so highly prized by the people. The Journal may have found out that the mere name of Washington can no longer be used as it has been, to befoul and destroy the principles which were the strength of his life, and the structure which he spent his life in building. But the people appreciate as they never have before the beauty and the glory of those rights of man upon whose broad foundation our institutions were set up. They are learning, as they have not before, that all men are endowed with inalienable rights to life and liberty and the pursuit of happiness, and that this Government was founded upon those rights to secure the blessings of liberty to us and to our children. Why have they undergone the sufferings of the past three years? Why have they poured forth blood and treasure unstintedly, but for the love they bore to those principles with which the name of Washington has been indissolubly connected? It was not merely to save the form of the Government. If they had suffered the rebellion to overthrow it, and to seat itself at Washington, and to extend its sway over all the land, North as well as South, they would have preserved the nation's life for awhile. It would have been the United States still, having its Capitol at Washington, and treated with by the nations of the earth, as being the same nation, just as France was the same nation after Louis Napoleon seized the imperial power that she was before. But it would have been the form without the substance, the dead carcase from which the fair spirit of Liberty had been driven by murderous hands, and which was animated by the foul vampyre of Slavery instead.

And are we, who have refused to allow this frightful substitution of death for life to be effected, are we to be charged with having no desire to keep before the country the men who first gave the nation its start into existence? How could we so well keep them before the country as teachers, fathers and examples, as by exalting their labors, and perpetuating the result of their toils?

If Washington were alive to-day where would he be found? Among those who have rebelled against a free Government in favor of Slavery? Never! He would be among that noble band of men who, "faithful among the faithless found," have clung to the Stars and Stripes amid persecution and obloquy. Still less would he join the ranks of those men who are ever seeking to find fault with our leaders, to make excuse for the rebels, to encourage dissatisfaction and dissension, and who rejoice over every mistake and magnify every fault of those whose hands they should strengthen.

He might differ with some of the "dominant party" as to the measures to be pursued. Although he expressed it as one of his "first wishes to see some plan adopted by which Slavery in this country may be abolished by law," we think he would agree with us in desiring to see the rebellion thoroughly put down before any issue of that kind was brought before the people, lest enemies of the cause should seize occasion to work injury to it. He might have his own views as to measures or men, but we may be assured that nothing would be allowed to divert him from the one purpose of establishing upon a firmer foundation than ever before the rights of humanity, and giving to the world a better idea of the blessings of a representative Government based upon liberty.

And in no way can we do so much honor to his memory, in no way can we so surely secure lasting honor and reverence to his name as by devoting ourselves with singleness of heart to that same end.

It was well for the President two years ago to take Washington's birthday as the signal for the general advance of the armies of Liberty upon the strongholds of Slavery. It is well for our citizens to choose that day for the opening of fairs whose proceeds shall aid in the care of the soldier who fights under the flag of Liberty.

These are deeds which he would rejoice to have his name connected with—and as long as his birthday is chosen as the day when heroism or munificence or sacrifice in our country's cause is called for, because that day must bring forth higher heroism or nobler sacrifice, so long there will be no danger of his memory's falling into disrespect or his name into forgetfulness.

But alas! for the rebels. What part or lot have they now in the name or fame of Washington! They have cut themselves loose from all the grand associations of the past, and the names of the Fathers could no longer be honored among them, if they should by evil power succeed in their mad design of overthrowing the Government which the Fathers established. But the signs look brighter for our bringing back to them the blessings which they threw away, and among them not the least are the glories of the ancient days, the thrill of old associations, and of rejoicing new and deeper than they ever felt before in Independence Day and the birthday of Washington, and in all the hopes for man with which those two days are and ever will be bright.

The Conscription Bill in its Final Form.

Whatever may be the extent to which the needs of the country may necessitate the practical enforcement of the draft, it is one comfort that we have at length a Conscription Law which is measurably perfect, and which is ready to hand whenever occasion requires. The act of last year, to which the bill just passed takes the form of an amendment, proved notoriously defective, and it became the duty of Congress to remedy its errors. In doing this, the committees intrusted with the elaboration of the new bill deserve the credit of patient, laborious, conscientious effort. All other systems of conscription have been laid under tribute, and no pains has been spared to render the law at once efficient and just. If it has seemed at times that the elaborate discussion it occasioned in both branches of Congress was causing needless delay in the passage of the measure, it is at least a matter of satisfaction that we have now a law which bids fair to realize the practical desideratum contemplated, without at the same time being too onerous on the public.

In its final form the bill provides that the quotas of localities shall be as nearly as possible in proportion to the number of men resident therein liable to military service, taking into account, as far as practicable, the number which has been previously furnished. Those enlisting in the naval service will also be taken into account, as well as all who may volunteer after the ordering of the draft. It also provides that if the quota of any district shall not be filled by the draft, further draft shall be made, and like proceedings had until the quota of the district is filled.

Persons enrolled may furnish at any time previous to the draft an acceptable substitute who is not liable, and such persons thus furnishing a substitute shall be exempt from the draft not exceeding the time for which such substitutes shall have been accepted. Any person drafted may, before the time fixed for his appearance for duty at the rendezvous, furnish an acceptable substitute. If any drafted person shall hereafter pay money for the procuration of a substitute, such payment shall operate only to relieve the person from draft on that call, and his name shall be retained on the roll, and he shall be subject to draft in filling that quota, and his name shall be retained on the roll in filling future quotas. But in no instance shall the exemption of any person, on account of his payment of commutation money for the procuration of a substitute, extend beyond one year; but at the end of one year in every such case the name of any person so exempted shall be enrolled again, if not before returned to the enrollment list under the provision of this section.

The following persons are exempted from enrollmeent and draft, viz.: Such as are rejected as physically or mentally unfit for service; all persons actually in the military or naval service of the United States at the time of the draft; and all persons who have served in the military or naval service two years during the present war, and been honorably discharged. No persons but such as are herein exempted shall be exempt.

So much of the Enrollment Act as provides for two classes of enrollment is repealed, and they are now consolidated.

No person of foreign birth shall on account of allenage be exempted from enrollment or draft, who has at any time assumed the rights of a citizen, by voting at any election held under the authority of the laws of any State or Territory, or of the United States, or who has held any office under such laws, or any of them; but the fact that such person of foreign birth has voted or held, or shall vote or hold office, shall be taken as conclusive evidence that he is not entitled to exemption from military service on account of alienage.

All able-bodied male colored persons between the ages of twenty and forty-five years, resident in the United States, are to be enrolled according to the provisions of the Enrollment Act, and form part of the national forces. And when a slave of a loyal master shall be drafted and mustered into the service of the United States, his master shall have a certificate thereof, and thereupon such slave shall be free, and the bounty of $100, now payable by law for each drafted man, shall be paid to the person to whom such drafted person was owing service or labor at the time of his muster into the service of the United States.

A Luckless Aspirant for Immortality.—The Committee of Claims of the Senate has been occupied with the consideration of the memorial of a gentleman named Charles de Ahna, who complains that not only has the Senate refused to make him a Brigadier-General but Gen. Halleck has refused him "an opportunity to gain distinction in the field or an honorable death." We are sorry to find, however, that the Committee has been discharged from further consideration of the subject, and that "it has been indefinitely postponed." Some action, it seems to us, ought to have been taken in the matter, as these are hardly the times in which to deny anybody the chance either of distinction in the field or of "an honorable death." Mr. de Ahna seems, however, to labor under the delusion that it is only as a Brigadier that "the path to glory or the grave" will be open to him. This is a sad mistake. We can assure him that this attractive highway is not by any means crowded with officers of that rank. Large numbers of them prefer the pleasant little byeways on either side, and leave the race for immortality to their humbler brethren. If Mr. de Ahna really thirsts for fame or death, he can be put in the way of gratifying himself in various other ranks; and if the worst comes to the worst, can reach the field of glory without troubling either Gen. Halleck or the Senate. His appearance as full private in any of our armies will give the greatest pleasure to the numerous gentlemen who are already in enjoyment of that dignity, and we beg to inform him that his expenses down will be paid on application to the nearest Provost-Marshal. We accordingly invite him to let the Senate and the War Department alone, and seek death or glory in his own way. We can assure him that one or other of these prizes is within the reach of any active, energetic and ambitious man either in Virginia or Tennessee. He will, probably, if he goes to Tennessee, meet with Robert Toombs, of Georgia, bent on the same errand as himself. That worthy announced his intention of sacrificing himself for his country some months ago, and we judge that by this time he must have settled his affairs, and be ready for the dread event.

The Municipal Junketings.

There is no tax-payer and no honest man in the City who reads Mayor Gunther's refusal to preside at the "banquet" that the Aldermen and Common Councilmen propose to give themselves and their friends on Washington's birthday, at the public expense, who will not thank him most heartily for having written it. He may rely upon it, that although, most unfortunately, as we believe, it is impossible to prevent the municipal elections from turning upon questions of Federal politics, the Mayor's opinions either on peace or war, Slavery or Anti-slavery, will not deprive him of the heartiest gratitude and heartiest support of the public, as long as he uses his powers to repress abuses and corruption and keep down taxation. There is nothing which the knaves with whom he has to deal do not turn to account for the purpose of filling their stomachs and their pockets. If we are for war, they stimulate our zeal by feasting, riding in carriages, and buying kid gloves at our expense; if we are for peace, they take the same means of testifying our satisfaction. If we revere the memory of a dead hero, they embody our reverence in a carousal; if we wish to honor a live one, they make it the occasion for wholesale pillage of the treasury. The system has long filled us with shame; but it is now growing into something worse than a mere scandal. What with United States taxes, State taxes and Municipal taxes, the burdens of those who live in New-York are fast becoming intolerable. It is a great delusion to suppose that these burdens fall only on the "tax-payers," commonly so-called—those who own real estate, which can be sold in default of payment. They fall on every resident in the City whatever his condition or calling. Whatever affects rents, of course affects the prices of all commodities sold or produced in houses or stores, as taxes affect rents; and, consequently, it may be safely said that every one of the feasts, excursions, processions, got up by the Common Council and their hangers-on, every dollar filched in the various public departments by the members of the "Ring," is felt in the humblest tenement in the City. Every ride the Aldermen take in public carriages, and every pair of yellow kid gloves they put on their brawny hands, makes it a little more difficult for the working man to provide shelter, food and clothing for his family. The rents of a vast number of the stores in the City are about to be doubled on the 1st of May; those of houses are increased by one-third—all this is of course not due to the weight of municipal taxation, but a portion of it is; and there is no taxation which is increasing in the same ratio as that of this City. Population and resources bid fair to grow far more rapidly than the burdens either of the nation or the State; but the burdens of the City Government are growing far more rapidly than population or wealth.

This must be ended some time. It must be brought to a close by what political economists call "positive and preventive" checks. In other words, if not stopped by prudent legislation, it will be stopped by the bankruptcy and the flight of capital to towns where so large a portion of the profits will not be absorbed by expenses. The commercial advantages of New-York are very great; but they are not so great that a few years more of corporation plundering cannot neutralize them.

We do not yet know what legislative or constitutional means can be adopted in order to relegate the present Board of Aldermen and Common Councilmen to their proper spheres; but, in the meantime, we sincerely trust the Mayor can do a world of good by applying his break to the machine, and we are greatly rejoiced to see that he is doing it. He could not possibly strike at a point that will give heartier gratification to the public at large than one aimed at the feeding swindles. There is something exceedingly revolting, considering the condition of the country and of the army, in these corporation feasts. If these worthies want to eat and drink in honor of Washington, by all means let them do it, but let them pay their bills out of their own pockets. There probably never was a man in America who would have been more thoroughly disgusted by the spectacle of an Aldermanic banquets than Washington himself; and we sincerely trust that all men of character and position who may be invited to the proposed "banquet," will pay their tribute to his memory by staying away from it.

WAR VESSELS.

A Terrible New English Iron-Clad.

The London Times, of 29th January, admonishes the Naval Powers of the world that England is now building an armored ship that will be "as terrible an assailant to iron-clads as an iron-clad would be to wooden ships." Our cotemporary, at a loss for a word that will convey a proper idea of the nature of the new fearful engine of war, calls it a "monster." The object, we are told, "with which this vessel is designed is, in case of another great naval war, to avoid repetition of the long, dreary work of blockading an enemy's fleet by wearisome and dangerous cruising off the mouth of harbors. The Bellerophon (the monster's name) is, in short, to a fleet of iron-clads what a fox-terrier is to a pack of hounds. In case of an enemy's iron fleet running into port, she can follow them with impunity."

The confident tone in which the new comer is heralded would naturally lead to the supposition that some startling principle had been developed in the art of constructing and propelling ships, some new material discovered of greater power to resist projectiles than hitherto known, some new mode of constructing ordnance devised for doubling or quadrupling the present charge of powder. Nothing of the kind—the Bellerophon is simply an iron vessel 300 feet long, 56 feet beam, 25 feet draft, and 4,246 tons burden. Nor does the motive power to be applied present any remarkable features. "It is hoped" that by working steam expansively, and by adopting some other modern improvements, to reduce the consumption of coal to 2½ pounds per horse power per hour. "If this great result be effected," says our cotemporary, "she can be depended upon at sea to average 15 knots." But, as he admits that the Black Prince, which is provided with the best machinery that England could produce a year or two ago, consumes 4½ pounds per horse power per hour, the hope expressed will scarcely be realized. Thus, neither the size of the terrible ship, nor her speed, present anything extraordinary. The "monster," therefore, to justify the name, should be absolutely impregnable and carry armament of such weight and disposition as to render opposition hopeless. Fortunately we are not left to conjecture on these points. Everything is described by our cotemporary with the utmost exactness. We are told that the impenetrable armor of the Bellerophon is composed of 6-inch solid plating backed. We beg our readers not to question our accuracy—backed by 9-inches of teak wood attached directly to the thin skin of the iron hull. It was only last week that a 6-inch solid plate, manufactured at a celebrated establishment in France, was shot through and broken into fragments at the first discharge from a 15 inch gun at Washington Navy-yard. We are aware that the English know nothing of such heavy guns, and that, at Shoeburyness, their trial ground, guns of 15-inch calibre, and their unhandy 450 pound shot, are not to be met with. Small calibres and elongated, handsomely turned projectiles of high initial velocity, are alone tolerated at Shoeburyness—always excepting the wonderful spherical 68-pounder. Velocity is everything at the English official target exhibitions. The shaking of foundations and breaking armor plates all to pieces at the first discharge with the lumbering 15-inch shot, Yankee fashion, has no charm for the scientific artillerists of Shoeburyness. These savans delight in noting the gradual extensions of small cracks produced by the impacts of the shot, and their interesting ramifications with other small cracks contiguous to certain bolt holes. An armor plate, which at the end of a day's trial, exhibits such marks in profusion is contemplated with much satisfaction. It furnishes matter for interesting speculation on the subject of momentum and cohesive force.

We have stated the thickness of the Bellerophon's armor—we will now describe how this impenetrable mail is distributed over the ship. Only 90 feet of the entire length is protected by armor reaching the upper deck. The remainder is merely cased by an armor belt extending six feet above and five feet below water. Above this belt both ends of the ship for a distance of 210 feet, are composed merely of the ordinary thin plating common to all iron vessels. The quarters of the officers and men are, therefore, wholly unprotected against shot, and may be riddled by transverse or raking fire by guns of any calibre. No provision is made for defending the ends of the ship. Five broadside guns on each side, placed fifteen feet apart, compose her entire armament. A turret vessel of adequate speed may keep close to the stern of the Bellerophon, or lap her sides for sixty feet, without being molested by her guns. Let us imagine the Dictator, with her power, to direct her entire battery over the bow, placed as we have stated, how long would the "monster" endure the raking shot from the 15-inch guns which would plow through from end to end? Bulkheads would avail little against a shot which we have proved can crush a 6-inch solid plate into fragments. The unprotected character of the ends of the Bellerophon being admitted, our cotemporary observes: "In action, of course, all the officers and crew would be in the battery, or below the line of the armor." But where will these officers and men go after the action? Their quarters, in the meantime, have been utterly demolished by the shells that have riddled the thin skin of the vessel that formed their only protection, and the openings made by the explosion of our 15-inch shells, sufficient to admit horse and cart, will, in a seaway, let in such a quantity of water as to defy the power of steam and centrifugal pumps. But we have shown that even the central portion of the Bellerophon which protects her guns is not of sufficient thickness to be proof against shot from our 15-inch guns. Let us now consider that in our turret ships of the Dictator and Kalamazoo class, the guns are protected by fifteen inches thickness, while the hulls are protected by ten inches thickness of plating and wrought slabs, backed by three and a half feet thickness of oak. We are surprised, under these circumstances, at the absurd pretensions of the London Times, and still more to find the British Admiralty, after so many costly experiments, sanction the construction of iron-clads so erroneous in principle as the Bellerophon. Could it be shown that higher speed is attainable on this plan, it might be argued that such a ship can take up her own position and thereby mitigate the evils of erroneous construction; but so far from the Bellerophon being able to carry a greater amount of motive power to her tonnage than other ships, her side armor is twice as heavy as that of our large turreted iron-clads of the Dictator type, which latter, therefore, besides their impregnability, will carry a greater amount of motive power, compared with their displacement, than the English "monster."

AMUSEMENTS.

The cold weather and the religious season interfered materially with the steady flow of prosperity at some of our places of amusement last week. Those establishments that appealed to the Hibernian element were damaged most severely from the latter cause; and in fact, "business" tumbled down so rapidly that it was found judicious to hastily shelve the "Irish Drama." Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams closed their engagement at Niblo's on Saturday—giving Mr. Gaylor, the author of the "Connie Soogah," a benefit on the previous night. In the interval between the Williams' and the Richings' engagements, Mr. Wheatley proposes to give us a few performances of the "Duke's Motto," commencing to-night. The cast is almost entirely new.

Mr. Maretzek played four times last week, and can boast of two average houses and two bumpers; the latter being drawn forth by "Faust" on Friday; and the "Norma" matinée on Saturday. Notwithstanding the enormous expenses of Mr. Maretzek's company, the season promises to be both long and remunerative. There is a rumor, to be sure, that the impresario has received tempting invitations from New-Orleans, and contemplates a flying visit to that city; but Mr. Maretzek frequently thinks twice before he acts once; and, in fact, he has a sufficient field for his exertions in the three cities of New-York, Boston and Philadelphia. The present will be an unusually interesting week. It opens to-night, with the rentrée of Signor Brignoli, in "I Puritani"—an opera in which he has no rival. Miss Kellogg is the Elvira, and Bellini and Biachi are in the cast. On Friday; Miss Harris is to make her début in "Lucia." The lady is young, possesses a good voice, and has abundance of execution. On Saturday evening, "Faust" will be given. There will be no matinée this week.

Mr. Gottschalk the pianist has returned from his Western tour, and will commence a new series of Farewell concerts at Niblo's saloon to-night. Mme. D'Angri, the renowned contralto, Mr. Carlo Patti, violinist, Mlle. Barnetche, pianiste, and Mr. George Simpson, tenor, will assist Mr. Gottschalk, who plays four of his best known compositions.

Mr. Jackson gave a performance at the Winter Garden on Saturday, in aid of the Sanitary Commission. Although several ladies of the Committee especially selected a matinée in preference to an evening performance, it is understood that Mr. Jackson has placed the receipts of the latter at their disposition. "The Ticket-of-Leave Man" still attracts excellent audiences, and will probably run through the entire engagement of Mr. and Mrs. Florence.

The receipts on Wednesday next at the Olympic Theatre will be handed over to the same excellent association. Two pieces will be played on that occasion, the "Pride of the Market" and the "Ill treated Il Trovatore." To-night the "Follies of a Night" and last-named extravaganza. We are glad to notice, by the way, that Mrs. Wood has at last concluded to bring out new pieces. A farce or two every now and then, is well enough, but it is asking too much of the public that they shall patronize the theatre exclusively for those trifles. On Thursday Mrs. Wood produces a comedy written expressly for her theatre by Messrs. Augustin Daly and Frank Wood, called "Taming a Butterfly."

Mr. Wallack revives an excellent drama to-night, and one which is excellently played by the members of this company. It is "Masks and Faces," the original of Charles Reade's novel of "Peg Woffington." The Triplet of Mr. Chas. Fisher is an exquisite morsel of character-acting.

A new piece called "Miriam's Crime" will be produced at Barnum's Museum to-day. It has been prepared with the care which now characterizes the stage management of the Museum, and will undoubtedly be received with favor by the public. There are a thousand other novelties in the saloons which must be seen to be believed, such as giants and hags, dwarfs and whistlers, &c.

At the Theatre Français to-morrow night we are to have "Le Violoneux," operetta in one act, by Offenbach; "Le Deux Veuves," comedy in one act, by M. Mallefille, and "Les Erreurs du Bel Age," comedy vaudevilie, by Messrs. Xavier and Varin.

Messrs. Mason and Thomas give their fourth soirée of chamber music at Dodworth's Saloon, on Tuesday (to-morrow) next.

Mr. J. N. Pattison, the pianist, announces a grand concert for Saturday evening at Irving Hall. Henselt's famous concerto in F. minor is the principal instrumental feature.

The Stereoscopticon continues to attract large audiences to Hope Chapel. There is a constant succession of novelties in the views represented. Few entertainments are managed in so active and spirited a manner. This, and the intrinsic merit of the exhibition, accounts for the decided success which continues to attend the soirées at Hope Chapel.

The grand testimonial concert to Mr. Lafayette Harrison has been postponed from Thursday, March 3, to Saturday, March 5. This was rendered necessary in consequence of the scarcity of orchestral players, and the many engagements they have on the first named night. To the public it will make no difference. The programme has been arranged, and is certainly one of the most attractive documents of the kind ever offered to the public. It contains four numbers for grand orchestra, a chorus to be sung by deputations from all the singing societies of the Metropolis; a solo by Mme. Medori, a solo by Signor Brignoli; a duet by these favorite artists; two movements of a concerto and a solo by Mr. Mills, and a violin solo by Mr. Bruno Wollenhaupt. The conductors are Messrs. Bergmann, Theo. Thomas, Arella and Timm.

Fine Arts.

Mr. Emile Seitz's old Crayon Gallery, corner of Eighth-street and Broadway, has been rendered lively during the past week, by the exhibition of Mr. Albert Bierstadt's new picture of the "Rocky Mountains." This work, by one of the most industrious and prolific and vigorous of American artists, owes its origin to a Western trip undertaken in 1858. Although particular in locality, it is general in detail; and represents not only the bold majestic lines of the mountain range in the Wind River district, but the amenities of a lovely valley, with the vital freshness of California, vegetation, and the gorgeous shimmer of sparkling waters. An Indian encampment in the foreground, treated with a fidelity that renders the details of costume, custom, &c., historically interesting, imparts a necessary degree of human warmth to the picture. The subject, indeed, is handled with mingled power and softness, and charms quite as much as it impresses. It is more coherent than works of its size are apt to be, and although large, has not been degraded with too much minutiæ of execution."

Mr. Bierstadt's work is, of course, to be engraved. Full particulars can be had in the Gallery.

Morton's Gold Pens are now sold at the same prices as before the commencement of the war; this is entirely owing to the Manufacturer's improvements in machinery, his present large Retail Business and Cash-in-Advance System; for, until he commenced advertising, his business was done on Credit and strictly with the Trade.

The Morton Gold Pens are the only ones sold at old prices, as the makers of all other gold pens charge the Premium on the Gold, Government Tax, &c.; but Morton has in no case changed his prices, Wholesale or Retail.

Of the great numbers sent by mail to all parts of the world during the past few years, not one in a thousand has failed to reach its destination in safety; showing that the Morton Gold Pen can be obtained by any one, in every part of the world, at the same price, postage only excepted.

Reader, you can have an enduring, always ready, and reliable Gold Pen, exactly adapted to your hand and style of writing, which will do your writing vastly cheaper than Steel Pens; and at the present almost universal High-Pressure Price of everything, you can have a Morton Gold Pen cheaper, in proportion to the labor spent upon it and material used, than any other Gold Pen in the World. If you want one, see "The Pen is Mightier than the Sword," in another column.

BILLIOUS AFFECTIONS AND THE VARIous complaints incident to this season, cannot find a surer or safer remedy than BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

VOICE FROM EGYPT.

Peace be unto you, and length of days. The medicine (Brandreth's Pills,) was a fierce foe to Azrael, both in pestilence and caravan sickness; the little orbs were rich with the wine of health; let the maker wear this golden circle, that he may know I was wounded with the arrows of disease, but am now healed. May he grow in the sunshine, and dispensing blessings, be most blessed.
ACHMET HALLILLA.

The above, accompanied by a ring, was delivered to me by a distinguished Member of Congress on his return from Jerusalem. B. BRANDRETH.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS are sold at 25 cents per box, enveloped in full directions. Purchase none unless my PRIVATE GOVERNMENT STAMP is on the box. See upon it the B. BRANDRETH in white letters.

LOAN OF THE COUNTY OF NEW-YORK.

PROPOSALS FOR $2,000,000 SOLDIERS' BOUNTY FUND BONDS.

Sealed proposals will be received at the Comptroller's office until Tuesday, 23d instant, at 2 o'clock P. M., when the same will be publicly opened, for the purchase, at not less than their par value, of the whole or any part of the sum of two million dollars of the "Soldiers' Bounty Fund Bonds," authorized by an ordinance of the Board of Supervisors, passed Feb. 17, 1864, and by an act of the Legislature of the State of New-York, passed Feb. 8, 1864.

The said bonds will bear interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, on the first day of May and November in each year, and the principal will be redeemable in successive annual instalments of five hundred thousand dollars each, commencing on the first day of November, 1883.

The proposals will state the amount of bonds desired, and the price per one hundred dollars thereof; and the persons whose proposals are accepted will thereupon be required to deposit with the County Treasurer the sums awarded to them respectively.

On presenting to the Comptroller the receipts of the County Treasurer for such deposit, the parties will be entitled to receive bonds for equal amounts, of the par value of the sums awarded to them, bearing interest from the date of payment.

Each proposition should be sealed and indorsed "Proposals for Soldiers' Bounty Fund Bonds," and inclosed in a second envelope, addressed to the Comptroller.

The right is reserved to reject any or all of the bids if considered necessary to protect or promote the interests of the County.

DEAFNESS AND CATARRH CURED.

No. 420 SIXTH-AV., NEW-YORK, Dec. 2, 1863.

I was deaf for several years, and hearing of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I was induced to place myself under his care, and I am now happy to state that my hearing was entirely restored after a short treatment. I was also suffering from chronic catarrh, of which I was also cured by the skillful treatment of Dr. Von Eisenberg. I do but justice to the Doctor in stating that in treating me he displayed that skill and knowledge which have already procured for him such a deserved reputation, and that the principles which direct his system of curing Deafness and Catarrh are such as to render success certain, in my opinion. Many months have passed since Dr. Von Eisenberg restored my hearing, and it continues as good as ever.
O. HOPKINS.

CATARRH CURED.
READ!

I have been suffering for a long time from a severe Catarrh, with a continual dullness in my head, a tightness across my chest, a weight over my eyes, which were weak, watery, and very painful. My nostrils were constantly obstructed with a pouring fluid. That frequent sneezing, hoarseness of my voice, often attended with a fullness of my throat, great soreness, and a continual dropping. Dr. Von Eisenberg has cured me of all these disagreeable sufferings. I may, indeed, say that I feel a new life. The treatment of Dr. Von Eisenberg is as skillful as it is successful. It is in my opinion impossible to overrate the benefit I have received at his hands. I heartily recommend any one suffering like myself to place themselves under Dr. Von Eisenberg's care, with a certainty of being speedily cured.

HARLEM, July 30, 1863.

I have been deaf for over TWENTY-FIVE YEARS, and Dr. VON EISENBERG operated on both of my ears without the slightest pain—a thing that I could not believe could be done. I now hear well, and feel as I never felt for the last twenty years. The dexterity and skill with which the operation was performed evince the highest practical ability. hear perfectly. It is now over a month since the operation, and I continue to feel as well as ever.
WILLIAM LIDDLE,
Harlem, 126th-st., between 3d and 3d avs.

No. 134 ALLEN-ST., NEW-YORK, Feb. 9, 1863.

I have been completely deaf in one ear, and partially so in the other, for above seventeen years, with a disagreeable discharge from both ears, combined with continual rumbling noise in the head, for which I have been treated by a most eminent practitioner in the City without the slightest relief.

I consulted Dr. Von Eisenberg, but I must candidly say that I had no faith in his success when I did so. It is, therefore, due to Dr. Von Eisenberg to acknowledge that I am entirely cured; also, that he displayed that skill and knowledge which have procured for him such an unrivaled reputation. As I have had an opportunity of comparing his mode of treatment with that of others, I can truly state that it is not only superior, but the principles which direct his mode of restoring the hearing are, in my opinion, certain. JOHN TAYLOR.

NEW-YORK, July 19, 1862.

This certifies that my mother has been for some time afflicted with partial deafness, suffering from pain, and rumbling noises in the head, together with other indications of a total loss of hearing. Dr. Von Eisenberg removed from her ears a great quantity of matter, together with coagulated blood, relieving her instantaneously, and all without pain. It is with grateful thanks that I give this testimony to his skill.

CHICAGO AND GREAT EASTERN RAILWAY COMPANY,
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,
FOR $2,000,000.

SUBSCRIPTION BOOKS OPENED WITH Messrs. SCHUCHARDT & GEBHARD, Bankers, No. 21 Nassau-st., New-York.

The Chicago and Great Eastern Railway Company now offer for sale one million one hundred thousand dollars of their first mortgage bonds, in sums of one thousand dollars each, maturing in thirty years, bearing interest at the rate of Seven per cent. per annum, payable in the City of New-York, on the first days of April and October, in each year.

These bonds are secured by a first and only Mortgage on the property, income and franchises of the Railway Company, executed to Frederick Schuchardt and Henry Morgan, of the City of New-York, Trustees.

The remaining nine hundred thousand dollars of the Bonds are set apart and remain in the hands of the said Trustees, for the purpose of being exchanged for the indebtedness of the Chicago and Cincinnati Railroad Company, running from La Grosse to Logansport; this effected, the $2,000,000 will form a First and only Mortgage on a line of road 110 miles in length, extending from Chicago to Logansport, where it connects with the Cincinnati and Chicago Air-line Railroad, forming the shortest line by 40 miles, between Chicago and Cincinnati, and by 36 miles the shortest line between Louisville and Chicago.

It will also open, in connection with roads now in operation, entirely new and very direct lines from Chicago to New-York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and all Eastern cities. The distance between Chicago and New-York by this route being shorter than by either of the existing lines via Dunkirk or Buffalo.

The road is now under contract, and the most strenuous efforts are being made to have it open for traffic during the Summer of 1864.

The interest on the Bonds maturing during the progress of the work has been provided for, and will remain on deposit with the Bankers of the Company, Messrs SCHUCHARDT & GEBHARD, No. 21 Nassau-st., to whom the Company refer for further particulars, and where subscription books for this loan have been opened.

FAIRS.

THE GREAT SANITARY FAIR.

BROOKLYN AND LONG ISLAND FAIR IN AID OF THE U. S. SANITARY COMMISSION

THE OFFICIAL PROGRAMME.

The Executive Committees of ladies and gentlemen announce the following programme:

On Monday, the 22d of February inst., the Birthday of Washington, the Fair will commence in this City. The committees hope that all business will, as far as possible, be suspended, and the day made a holiday for all classes of the population.

In the afternoon there will be a grand parade of the entire military force of the City, passing the Academy in review at three o'clock precisely, including, it is hoped, the soldiers of our regiments in the army on furlough, and the United States Marines from the Navy-yard.

At 7 o'clock P. M. the various departments of the Fair will be thrown open. These are:

1. The auditorium of the Academy of Music, floored over through its entire area to the extent of more than 11,000 square feet, as a great Ladies' Bazaar, for the sale of lighter and more elegant kinds of dry and fancy goods, articles of vertu, and articles which are the product of woman's taste and skill.

2. The Art Gallery of Paintings and Sculpture, in the Concert Room of the Academy.

3. The Museum of other works of art, relics and curiosities, memorials of the wars of the Union, past and present. Many of these articles are gifts and to be sold for the Fair; and others are loans on exhibition. The Museum is on the northeast corner of Montague-st., corner of Clinton-st., and in the immediate vicinity of the Academy.

4. The New-England Kitchen. This will represent New-England farm-house life in the last century, and offer substantial New-England fare of the best material and cooking. In the Kitchen there will be, according to future announcements, various entertainments illustrative of the Olden Time. The Kitchen is entered either directly from Montague-st., opposite the Academy, or by a covered bridge thrown across the street from the eastern end of the Academy

In the same building with the New-England Kitchen is the Department of Manufactures and Mechanic Arts, and the Receiving and Packing room for Hospital Clothing.

On the western end of the Academy is "Knickerbocker Hall," the refreshment-room of the Fair. Here meals will be served of all varieties, and in the style of the best City restaurants, to individuals or parties, at all business hours of the Fair. It can be entered from Montague-st., or directly from the vestibule of the Academy.

In accordance with resolutions of the Executive Boards, adopted in deference to a largely-expressed public sentiment, and heretofore published, there will be no sales of wines and no raffling.

The Post-office, in charge of a large and efficient committee of ladies and gentlemen, will occupy the prosecnium box of the Academy on the right of the stage.

The table of the Committee on Finance, where cash contributions to the Fair will be received, will be found on the opposite side of the stage, near the left proscenium box, which is the Treasurer's office.

A paper called the Drum-Beat, under the editorship of Rev. Dr. Storrs, aided by a numerous corps of contributors, will be published daily, and for sale in all the departments.

Dodworth's full band will be in attendance on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of the first week, and on those of Friday and Saturday the band of the U. S. receiving-ship North Carolina, kindly detailed for the service by Capt. Meade.

A large corps of marshals to aid the ladies at the tables, and the Committee on Internal Arrangements, have volunteered for the purpose, and a sufficient police force will be on duty.

PRICES OF ADMISSION.

1. Ticket admitting one person, on Monday evening only, the opening night of the Fair, to all its departments, two dollars.

2. Season ticket, not transferable, admitting the holder at all times to all the departments of the Fair, at its opening and to its close, four dollars.

3. Season ticket, not transferable, admitting the holder to all the departments of the Fair, at all times on and after TUESDAY, the 23d inst., two dollars.

4. Single tickets for the remainder of the first week after the opening night; to the auditorium, fifty cents; to each of the other departments, twenty-five cents.

5. Single tickets for the second week, to the close of the Fair, to each of all the departments twenty-five cents.

On TUESDAY, the 23d inst., and thereafter during the Fair, the hours of business will be from 11 A. M. to 10 P. M. each and every day. A signal for the company to retire will be given each night precisely at the last named hour.

The committee confidently hope that the claims of our sick and wounded soldiers on the public beneficence will be recognized by our loyal people as their great motive in preparing for and carrying on this Fair, and that when it is closed the grand result to its treasury will be but another proof how generously those claims are appreciated and met.

The citizens are invited to display the national flag in honor of the day, and residents on the line of march are requested to remove all obstructions from the streets.

By order of the committee.

J. S. T. STRANAHAN, Chairman.

New-York Fire Department Committee of the Metropolitan Fair in Aid of the United States Sanitary Commission, Office No. 744 Broadway,

THE ABOVE COMMITTEE TAKE THIS method of calling the attention of the Fire Department generally to the necessity of immediate action on their part, in order to successfully accomplish our share of this praiseworthy object.

Fire Companies that have not already made the necessary arrangements are earnestly requested to call special meetings and appoint committees from the active and honary members, to take the matter in charge.

To the Exempt Firemen who have no particular company associations, and to the public generally, the committee earnestly appeal for contributions either of money or articles of value.

Fire Departments in the adjoining cities and throughout the State are requested to join with the New-York Fire Department in aiding this laudable undertaking.

A prominent position in the fair has been allotted to the Fire Department, and will be under the especial charge of the committee.

Contributions can be sent to the Rooms No. 744 Broadway, where they will be received and acknowledged.

The Executive Committee will be in daily attendance at the receiving depot, and will furnish any information desired.

Firemen and the public are invited to call.

Programme of Arrangements

FOR THE
CELEBRATION OF THE ANNIVERSARY OF THE
BIRTHDAY OF GEO. WASHINGTON,
February 22, 1864.
UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE Common Council of the City of New-York.

The Joint Special Committee of the Common Council of the City of New-York, appointed to make the necessary arrangements for properly celebrating the One Hundred and Thirty-second Anniversary of the Birthday of George Washington, have decided upon the following:

A salute of one hundred guns will be fired at Madison-square.

The Seventy-first Regiment New-York National Guard will be reviewed by the Common Council, in compliance with an invitation addressed to the Board of Councilmen. A grand banquet will be given at Delmonico's Hotel, at the corner of 16th-st. and 5th-av., to the members of the Common Council, the heads of the Executive Departments of the City Government, the Judges of the several courts, officers of the county and representatives from this State in Congress and the Legislature of the State, and prominent citizens of this City.

A grand display of Fireworks will be given at the City Hall and at Union-square, under direction of T. E. Edge, Esq., the distinguished pyrotechnist, to commence at 7 o'clock P. M.

The exhibition in the Park will be represented by a colossal piece of Gen. Washington crossing the Delaware. Previous to the firing of the above piece the sky will be for one hour continually illuminated with rockets, shells, colored fire, &c., &c., and will end with a splendid display of colored fires, flights of rockets, bengola, and colored batteries,

At Union-square there will also be a gorgeous display of Fire Works; commencing and ending alike with colored fire, shells, batteries, rockets, &c.

Keepers of public buildings, masters and owners of vessels and our fellow citizens generally, are respectfully requested to display their flags on the occasion of the celebration, from sunrise to sunset.
